OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLAHOMA

Miss Joan Inare
Stillwater,

Willard Hall
Room 360

Okla.

My Dear This is Saturday almost before breakfast and such a morning cold & windy.
am going down to take my treatment
at eleven & I dread getting out.

Dorothy would have come up to see you this weekend but The Black Kats - are having a
Ladies Hawkins dance tonight
& she didn't want to miss it.

We are planning on coming up next Sunday. I will ask the Tuttle's to come with us
of course don't know their plans
yet. I can't say I like your stationary it's too too thin.

I know you are enjoying Fancy's visit.

I went to a party over to Blanche's Thurs. in honor of ~~the~~ Grandpa's 75th from Ill.
I thought I will bring your heavy blue coat up so you can wear it when it rains P.P.

There isn't any news.

Take good care of yourself & be a good girl for me.
all my love
Mother.

Co-eds to Take Store Over

Yes, these co-eds will be fine as sales girls when the University of Oklahoma Advertising club takes over Kerr's department store Saturday for the second annual University day. Bill Simms, Cement, one of the advertising salesmen on the Oklahoma Daily, student newspaper at the University of Oklahoma, is shown here measuring Miss Vera Marie Patterson, Oklahoma City, to see if she comes up to standard. (And she does. For she was Covered Wagon queen at the university this year.) Looking on is Miss Olive Bretz, Oklahoma City, who holds the title, "Daily Debutante," awarded her by the Oklahoma Daily after a search to find the typical co-ed. All three of these Ad club members will work at Kerr's Saturday.

n Leads Aggie Scoring

The Oklahoma Aggies will open the bag on all of their tricks for Saturday's homecoming game with Washington university. Here Quarterback Les Younger says: "This trick ought to wow them, don't you think?" It should, Les, positively. But who are the tricks? Sarah Ellen Puckett, Mary Louise Klein and Kathryn Reif, all of Oklahoma City, and Dora Jo Cable of Yale (left to right).

I hear it at least four times a day, usually from a feminine fan—to reach the sports desk is: "What is the rest of the Sooners' schedule?" ... In an effort to keep from reading it to each one of our subscribers personally, I repeat it here for all to gaze upon:

Oct. 19—Kansas State at Norman.

Oct. 26—Iowa State at Ames.

Nov. 2—Nebraska at Norman.

Nov. 9—Kansas at Lawrence.

Nov. 16—Missouri at Norman (homecoming).

Nov. 23—Temple at Norman.

Nov. 30—Santa Clara at San Francisco.

Why don't you clip it out, girls, and paste it over the kitchen sink, right next to the recipe for pickling peppers? It would save us both lots of time.

Yours,
ART EDSON.

Women Will Try Their Hand In This Pro-Amateur

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—(P)—Golfers tuned up Thursday for the $1,000 Santa Anita open tournament with a professional-amateur-women's event over the Arcadia course.

A featured threesome included Ralph Guldahl, former national open king; Jane Cothran of Greenville, S. C., finalist in the recent women's national, and Comedian Bob Hope, rated one of Hollywood's better golfers.

Pitted against them in the best-ball competition were such experts as Olin Dutra, another former open champion; Amateurs Bruce McCormick and Ellsworth Vines, and Miss Clara Calender of Long Beach, semifinalist in the women's national. The tournament proper starts Friday and ends Sunday.

DALLAS, Oct. 17.—(P)—Two of college football's finest punters duel Saturday at Dallas in the Auburn-Southern Methodist game—and if the day is breezeless the results should be almost stupendous.

Flaxen-haired Presto Johnston, the Methodist kicker who left Pittsburgh last Saturday with the natives still pacing off that 92-yard boot against Pitt, meets up with Rufus Deal, the Auburn fullback who rocked the old south last season with an 87-yard kick against Georgia Tech.

Deal's kick really went something like 115 yards. He booted when the ball was in play on his own 13-yard stripe and it tumbled on over the far end zone and into the stands. Only a week ago, against Mississippi State, he spiraled a couple of 62-yards.

But Deal is just one of several

OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES

TEN—THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1940

---

THE marriage of Miss Gayle Stahl to William Burrus Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Armstrong, 1005 Northeast Fourteenth street, was announced Thursday morning by Mrs. Edwin S. Stahl, mother of the bride.

The announcement was made at a coffee given in the home of Mrs. Stahl, 735 Northeast Nineteenth street, with her other daughters, Mrs. William C. Tippit and Mrs. Jack White, and Mrs. Edwin S. Stahl jr. assisting.

White chrysanthemums and autumn leaves decorated the home and formed the centerpiece of the coffee table at which Mrs. William J. Armstrong presided.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Stahl and the late Mr. Stahl, attended Gunston Hall, Washington, D. C. and the University of Oklahoma. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority and was a member of Black Kat club at Classen highschool, where she received her preparatory education.

Mr. Armstrong was graduated from the University of Oklahoma this year at the end of the first semester. He is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. Mr. Armstrong is a geologist with the Tulsa office of the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp. He is a member of the Young Men's club of Tulsa.

The marriage took place March 16 in Fort Smith, Ark.
